

LOWE INSTITUTE
OF POLITICAL ECONOMY

CLAREMONT MCKENNA COLLEGE

6TH CALIFORNIA MACROECONOMICS CONFERENCE OCTOBER 22, 2022

The Lowe Institute of Political Economy at Claremont McKenna College cordially invites paper submissions for the 6th Annual California Macroeconomics Conference (CMC) to be held on Saturday, October 22 at the Claremont Colleges.

We encourage paper submissions in all areas of macroeconomics and we invite submissions from faculty and graduate students from all colleges, universities, and research organizations. The conference will consist of up to six selected papers. The previous conference program can be accessed here: 2021 Program.

Keynote Speaker: Jón Steinsson (UC Berkeley)

Organizers: Andy Atkeson (UCLA), Ricardo Fernholz (Claremont McKenna College), Yuriy Gorodnichenko (UC Berkeley), Galina Hale (UC Santa Cruz), and Johannes Wieland (UC San Diego)

Important dates:

- Deadline for submissions: August 15, 2022
- Notification of decisions: September 15, 2022
- Deadline to submit final manuscripts: October 1, 2022

Submissions: If you have a paper you would like to present, please submit a copy via the conference website: CMC 2022 or send a copy to Ricardo Fernholz: rfernholz@cmc.edu. While extended abstracts will also be considered, completed papers are preferred. The CMC organizing committee will select the papers to be presented at the conference and authors will be notified of the committee's decisions in September.

About the Lowe Institute: The Lowe Institute of Political Economy is a research institute at Claremont McKenna College. Cameron Shelton, McMahan Family Associate Professor of Political Economy and George R. Roberts Fellow, directs the institute.

Please feel free to circulate this call with colleagues who might be interested.

We look forward to having you,

Andy, Ric, Yuriy, Galina, and Johannes